Romulus and Remus

The story goes that the twins Romulus and Remus were left by the Tiber and fed by a she-wolf. Romans later fixed the founding of Rome at 753 BC, a date credited to the scholar Varro.

F A C S H E W O L F R C E E F
I L E G E N D C R L L E S O L
G D L T L F P L R O I I M U E
T S O E N U O V E A M R R U P
R H M V S I P U A R D U U S S
E E A L F E O E N R E L L H F
E P L C E O S T R D R R E U I
E H B S S O U F W C E O B A S
P E A E R U G N A I A R A L N
D R L U S D L D D R N L S O B
L D O F A U S T U L U S K F U
R S N U H S L E E B I T E P G
E T G A M U L I U S L N T O F
T E A A E P A H W E M U G C L
N S R U W I S E E L F O U S I

- ☐ Alba Longa
- ☐ Amulius
- ☐ Basket
- ☐ Cradle
- ☐ Faustulus
- ☐ Fig Tree
- ☐ Founder
- ☐ Foundlings
- ☐ Legend
- ☐ Lupercal
- ☐ Remus
- ☐ Romulus
- ☐ Shepherd
- ☐ She-Wolf
- ☐ Twins
- ☐ Varro

Free for personal and classroom use · Brazen Head Press
Please link to brazenheadpress.com/free rather than re-sharing this PDF